

Halloween animals-symbols !

There are some animals associated with Halloween, but we present some of the short stories related to them at your pleasure.

Bats: There was one man constantly spreading fear of bats in the neighborhood. He said that some vampire bats invaded the city and would drink people's blood. He added that he saw them in those parts of the city and even in his own house. Nobody believed him. They put him in the mental institution. Shortly after, one night, they found him dead! He had many bites across his entire body and was left without blood!

Frogs: One man was driving near a swamp at night. Suddenly he saw many frogs. And he hit something. When he got out, he saw that he had trampled many green frogs. And many of them were still alive watching at him! Suddenly, they all disappeared. When he turned in the opposite direction there was one giant ugly green frog right next to him! It was big almost as the man. The frog opened its giant mouth and swallowed the man! Police found only his and some of his and frog's DNA around.

Crow: It is said when a crow makes its disturbing noise and sits at the fence or at the roof of the house, some accident will happen. One girl, Tanya saw a crow on her fence when leaving her house. Then, she continued walking towards her job. During her walk, suddenly, out of nowhere a dead crow fell two meters away from her! The next day, she didn't want to walk because she was scared, so she used a bike to go to her job. While she was riding the bike, she suddenly lost control when a crow hit her. She fell and ended hit by a rock, which killed her instantly!

Rats: One homeless man was arrested as a suspect for murder. Another homeless man was killed under weird circumstances, bitten many times and was found with a rat in his mouth. He said that he hadn't killed that man and that the murderer was some hybrid, humanoid man-sized king of rats, which held hundreds of minion rats. A poor man that was killed ate rats, so the King of rats had his revenge by letting the rats kill him and putting one dead rat as a warning to others who dare to do the same. Detectives thought that the story was crazy, so they let him go out. The next day in a subway, they found him dead as well, having a dead rat in his mouth!

HORROR VALLEY

horrorvalley.com