

STOP SMOKING

A bunch of teenagers prepared to visit a cornfield near their town after school so they could smoke weed. Those kids were the classic high school kids, playing some tough guys, and called themselves "awesome and best". In school, they always tried to impress the girls. They were also constantly making fun of not so popular students who were not that awesome by their opinion. Some kids had rich parents and they were conceited. Also, they always had money to buy weed. They wanted to change a smoking place and leave the park. So, they chose to go to the cornfield by night. So, after school, just before the sunset, they all met, and some girls also joined them. The group was ready to move. They noticed Jack, a younger teenager they often teased. , "Hey Jack, see what we have" - Richard (leader of the group) said, showing the weed. "This is what real men do! Go and lick a lollypop you weakling haha!" he mocked the boy while others laughed. When they reached their destination, they were delighted since it was a huge cornfield. There was also a scarecrow inside.

Big, man-sized scarecrow in dirty clothes, filled with grain. It had a vicious face with a hat. , "Look at the scarecrow, it looks like that idiot Jack hahaha", Richard said to others, and they burst into the laughter again. Then, after a few minutes of walking, they reached the center of the cornfield and everything was already set up for a campfire. They had prepared it the day before. They lit the campfire and started smoking weed. Suddenly, out of nowhere, a deep scary voice yelled from the dark: "Do not smoke here!" Some girls got scared, but the boys started laughing because they were influenced by the drugs. Richard tried to play a tough guy again and impress others. He yelled as well: "Show yourself you bummer, or I will break your bones!". There was just silence then. Nothing happened. "That's right. You should run away now." - Richard said. Then he took another long smoke, but there was the same deep voice coming from the cornfield telling him: "I warned you!" Then they heard some noise nearby and Richard ran into the cornfield. Later he got back carrying Jack with him and hit him.

"See, this moron followed us and tried to scare us", Richard said. But Jack defended himself: "No, no, I just came here, I didn't do anything. I just wanted to see Sarah". "What, are you stalking me?" Sarah said. "Well, you are a cheerleader, of course, he's up to you, come on. Don't be that hard on him. He'll look pretty after a few slaps! Just hold him here, I'm going back to the place where I took that moron. I accidentally dropped my drugs there." Richard said. Then he went back to collect his drugs. And for sure, he saw a bunch of weed in the same place where he had found Jack. But suddenly, someone forcefully threw him to the ground. When he got up and tried to see who it was, he was face in face with that scarecrow that was holding a sickle in hands! He was frozen from fear. The scarecrow told him with that same deep voice: "I told you not to smoke here!" and then throbbed Richard with the sickle straight into the stomach. People noticed that Richard wasn't coming back. They ordered Jack to show them the place where Richard had found him. When Jack ushered them to the destination, they revealed the dead body of Richard, and drugs around him. Police never figured out who did it.
