

What scares you the most 2

Peter, Nicolas, Edward and Kevin are sitting in a room and talking.

Peter: "Hey guys, Kevin is silent now! Let's shake him a bit! We'll talk ghost stories. I'll start first. Two kids, a boy and a girl, had a dog. They built it a house in the backyard surrounded by a fence. On a random night, when their parents were away, the kids were watching a movie. Door was open because it was too hot outside. Suddenly their dog ran into the room and jumped on the bed. They got scared because they didn't expect him to jump over the fence just like that. The boy then decided to check the backyard and discover how the dog managed to jump over the fence. What he saw there was his dog actually. The dog was lying on the ground dead there. When parents got back home later, they saw him scared and mentally disturbed. The girl was missing since that day. Nobody knew what had happened."

Kevin: No!

Nicolas: "Ok, Kevin is angry now. I'll continue. Once, a man was in charge of a lighthouse on a small island, near the mainland. A heavy thunderstorm occurred one night. He was inside the lighthouse and heard someone yelling outside. When he opened the door he saw one woman. She was all wet and told him that their yacht sank at the shore of the island and that she needed his help. He told her to come in and immediately came out to see what was happening. When he came to the shore he saw a sunken and heavy damaged yacht. Bodies were all around - three men and one woman. When he checked them he saw that the dead woman lying there was actually a woman who came to him to seek help! Booo Kevin, are you afraid of ghosts now!"

Kevin: Shut up!

Edward: "Ok, ok, he is scared. Now it's my turn. There was a rich man which couldn't get old as time passed. And each wound he got was healed fast without any scar, and he was very strong in general.

They said that he had a tombstone in his house which provided him with all of that. One boy secretly went into his house and saw on the wall that tombstone attached. When he moved it, a secret door opened nearby. There was a hidden room inside where he discovered many satanic books. And there was also a ghost in chains - magical chains which held the ghost in the room! The ghost looked exactly like that rich man! The ghost then attacked the boy and devoured his life force. That is how he never aged as his ghostly soul was detached from his body and devoured some souls to keep him safe! Kevin, now, your turn!"

Kevin: "Leave me alone! Just go away from me!"

Then nurse and a few doctors came into the hospital room, and the doctor started talking:

"Kevin, do you again scream and shout at your imagined friends? This is why you've been in a mental institution for two weeks already! Nurse, give him an injection, he needs to calm down!"
